

Annual Leadership Forum Earn 5 CEU for Attending

Security leaders from the public and private sectors share their experiences, challenges, and successes.

New this year:

- Two focused Networking Sessions
- Women in Security Swag Bag
- Community Service Event

We will be having a raffle fundraiser for Women’s Advocates a Women’s Shelter in St. Paul. Raffle tickets will be available for purchase for $5 throughout the day. Cash, checks and credit cards will be

Support · Inspire · Promote

Keynote Speaker

Deena S. Disraelly, PhD

The Accidental Career – Finding Balance when Left Turns Turn Out Right

General Sessions:

Felicia McDade

The Pursuit Of Excellence: Creating Your Opportunity

Shena Crowe

Threat Assessments: Detect, Reflect, Project

In modern security practice, enhancing detection requires motivating partners across companies and professional networks. Once detected, appropriate response depends on being informed and informing others to support decision-making. All these activities have parallels in the lives of professional women.

Elizabeth Stevens

Anagrammatical Leadership: Praise Held, Help Raised

Leadership is a loaded word. For some, it conjures images of ladders and ceilings and pyramids of aspiration. For others, it’s a reviled representation of corporate suits with offshore accounts. It can describe abilities, or connote a position. Synonyms vary broadly: from management, to administration, to effectiveness, to authoritativeness, to command and control. Hegemony. Influence.

For this discussion, bring your best answer to this interview question - “Describe your leadership style in three words, explain how it has evolved, and who or what has helped shape it.” We’ll talk about leadership in a way that encourages iterative effort and challenges long-standing work norms. When you leave, you might just have a modified version for your next career conversation. At minimum, you will have a definition for hegemony.

June 21, 2016

Travelers Insurance
375 Washington Street

South Building

St. Paul, MN

7:30 AM— 8:00 AM

Registration

& Continental Breakfast

8:15AM—9:00 AM

Opening Remarks

& Keynote Speaker

9:00 AM—3:00 PM

General Sessions &

Networking Exercises

◆ Women’s Shelter—

Babette Jamison

◆ Public Outreach

◆ Felicia McDade

◆ Shena Crowe

◆ Elizabeth Stevens

◆ Panel Discussion

3:00 PM—4:00 PM

Wine & Cheese Happy

Hour & Fundraiser for

Women’s Advocates

Attendees

$75.00: Early Bird for

Non-Members until May 20

$100.00: Non-Members

(May 21 to June 21)

$75.00 ASIS Member

$50.00 Student and

Emergency Responders

Register Online

www.mnasis.org